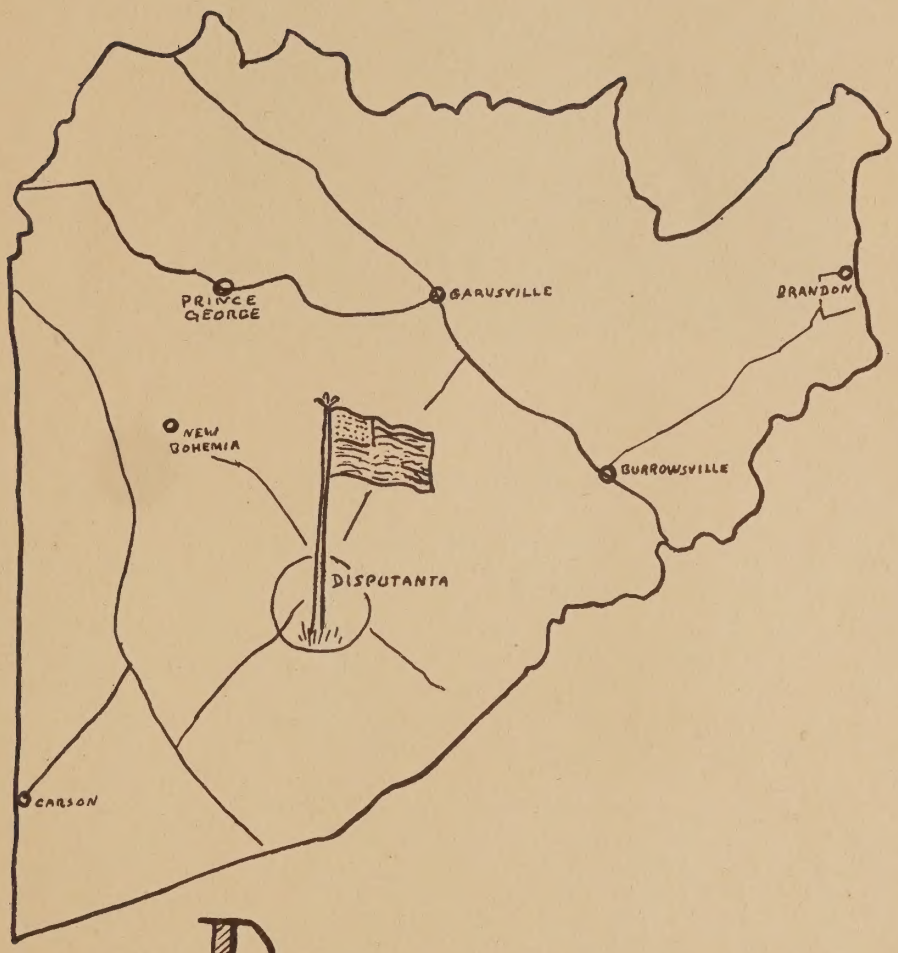
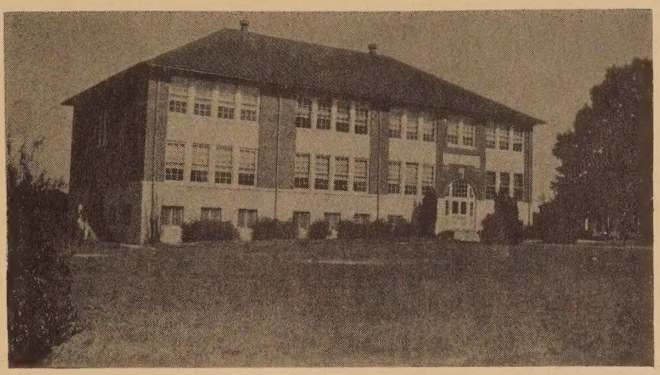
DEDICATION



DEDICATION

To those who have gone from Disputanta High School to enter the service of their Country, that we might continue to enjoy its many freedoms we, the Class of 1946, dedicate this Annual.



D.H.S. OUR ALMA MATER

'Till the seas become abated and the stars forget to shine,
'Till the clouds obscure the sunlight,
and 'tis darkness all the time,
'Till the raindrops cease their falling,
and the wind forgets to blow,
'Till this gay old world stops whirling,
D.H.S. our love shall know.

Hail to all her sturdy heroes,
heroes of the court and field,
Ones who know no end of victory,
heroes who would scorn to yield;
With a vim and zeal unequaled
they will fight unto the end,
Each one knowing 'tis his duty,
his school's honor to defend.

When in years to come we're severed from that home we love so well,
In our hearts the golden memories of our youth will ever dwell;
So when e'er we see that banner,
and we watch its folds unfurl,
We will cheer for Alma Mater
D.H.S. a priceless pearl.

CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1942, twenty-six lively girls and boys entered the halls of D.H.S. Each of us had set a goal which we hoped to accomplish, and each was wearing a smile of determination which we hoped would encourage our teachers to think we were all going to be good students, and develop into good timber.

We elected the following class officers: President, Mildred Goodman; Vice-President, Harris Swann; Secretary, Bernice Collins; Treasurer, Robert Pollock; and S.C.A. Representative, Emily Stech. We chose as our motto "Here Lies the Timber, Let Us Build."

We didn't realize it, but the graduating class of that year thought we were a noisy bunch, so they willed us their quietness and dignity. Of course, we didn't mind a little thing like that because we knew that we would be calmed down before long.

In September, 1943, we were glad to get back to see each other and be together again. Since we had lost six of our members at the end of our freshman year, we were more than happy to know we had gained three new members.

This year our class officers were: President, Frances Waymack; Vice-President, Joan Tarpy; Secretary, Mary Louise Avery; Treasurer, Robert Pollock; and S.C.A. Representative, Emily Stech.

We tried our best to show the other classes how quiet and dignified we could be. This time we made a success. Our teachers were wonderful to us, so we put forth our best efforts to show them our appreciation.

Soon we realized our second year was nearing an end. To our regret, we lost four more of our members. Nevertheless those of us left were willing to make a third attempt, since the first two were so successful.

In the fall of 1944, we began our third adventure, and were happy when we picked up a new member. Our class officers this year were: President, Betty Hobbs; Vice-President, Robert Pollock; Secretary, Emily Stech; Treasurer, Lindy Cole; and S.C.A. Representative, Frank Soucek.

There was glee in the air, and the "Jolly Juniors" became jollier on the morning of November 24, when we heard that our rings had arrived.

All work and no play makes us dull, and because of the kindness and goodness of the seniors, we decided to have a Junior-Senior Party. We held this party in December, and everybody agreed that it was a success.

After much work, hard studying, and enjoyment, we were nearing the end of our third adventure. This time only one of our members was lost. Knowing we were to be dignified seniors, we wished with all our hearts that none of our members would get weak and go back.

In the fall of 1945, we were happy to have all nineteen of our members together for our last adventure. Our class officers this year are: President, Robert Polluck; Vice-President, Edwin Williams; Secretary, Joan Tarpy; Treasurer, Frank Soucek; and S.C.A. Representative, Mary Louise Avery. Since our class motto is "Here Lies the Timber, Let Us Build," we decided to change our class colors from "blue and white" to "green and white".

On the morning of October 25, our class and history teacher, Mr. Haynes, motored to Richmond on the school bus. The climax of a day of sight seeing was meeting and shaking hands with Governor Darden.

Our school put on a special drive to sell stamps and bonds in the 7th. War Loan Drive. We did our part and nearly every week we took the lead in pupil participation. As a result, our school sold enough bonds to place panels on three hospital beds.

In February we had the privilege of visiting the State Legislature, and observing the procedure of law-making in Virginia. We feel that we profited much by this trip and enjoyed it very much.

As this annual goes to press we are looking forward to the coming of graduation. Our work and play here together has been good and profitable. We feel that our timber is more seasoned and we must start to build a worthwhile and useful life--and so we shall greet the "Day of Graduation" with joy and gladness in our hearts.

WHO'S WHO

With pleasure we not introduce to you,
The members of our class all tried and true.
The class of '46 for four long years
Has worked together, sharing its joys and tears.

Our leader was Bobby, dark and tall.
This ladies' man surely tops them all.
The happiest member of all our crew
Is handsome Lindy with eyes so blue.
Helen is short but a gay little girl
When it comes to work she's off with a whirl.

So shy and quiet is John Soltes
Who does his work with the greatest of ease.
Our softball rivals can always say,
"It was their catcher who saved the day."
With an aim that's steady, she's quick on her feet.
Ah! this girl Betty is hard to beat.

Frank with his masculine build so tall
Is bound to make track and college football.
Friendly, dependable, and loyal too,
Emily is there when there's work to do.
Mary and Hilda you surely must know
Are always together wherever they go.

If you hear a giggle or a loud tee-hee,
You'll see Pauline and Mildred G.,
And if they're dancing, you're sure to find
That Frances Waymack is not far behind.
Though Frances' cousin, you'd never guess,
Mildred's much quieter, I must confess.

Edwin's the one with the red-blonde hair
Your burdens he'll cheerfully help you bear.
He's always ready with some silly prank,
But whatever it is it's never too rank.
A pint-sized edition of sugar and spice
That's Mary Louise, tiny but nice.

Hazel is tall, stately, and serene.
The boys all declare that she is a queen.
Paul is the boy when it comes to debating.
He's sure to come through with the highest of rating.
Doris has a mischievous glint in her eye.
She is sure to break some man's heart bye and bye.

Our list of nineteen would be incomplete
If a certain tall blonde you did not meet.
You've probably guessed, but now you know it.
For it is Joan, your humble poet.

Dear friends and teachers, it has been much fun
To introduce my classmates one by one.
And though the time has come to bid adieu
Forever to our school we will be true.

--- Joan Tarpy

PROPHECY

What an assignment! A prophecy for the Disputanta High School Class of 1946! A job I thought I could not undertake without help! Where would I find help? I finally decided to go to a fortune teller. I told her my troubles, and she suggested that I gaze into her crystal ball and see the futures of my classmates.

At first I could see but dimly my classmates, but gradually they walked plainly before my eyes. I saw Hazel Riddle as a neat little housekeeper in the outskirts of a large city. Her favorite classmate, Doris Nicol, was living at the top of a near-by hill in a vine-covered cottage with her husband, Lindy Cole, who was now pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Edwin Williams was the President of a large bank in Washington. His private secretary was none other than Frances Waymack. On his desk, I saw a picture of his favorite movie star, Mildred Goodman.

Paul Vargo was a County Agent in Texas. Mary Vargo was Home Demonstration Agent in the same county, and I wasn't at all surprised to see that Hilda Oleyar was her stenographer.

Mary Louise Avery was chief telephone operator in the main office of the Bell Telephone Company, and Joan Tarpy was chemist at the Bureau of Standards in Washington.

Bobby Pollock, a successful farmer, owned a large farm in Prince George County.

Betty Hoggs, Director of Physical Education at Farmville State Teacher's College, was living with her friend, Helen Tiller, who was now a busy housekeeper.

Mildred Waymack, a popular radio singer, was an impersonator of Kate Smith.

The quietest member of our class, John Soltes, was now a Congressman, and I saw Frank Soucek coaching football at V.M.I.

Pauline Vargo had become a costume designer in Hollywood and was designing costumes for Mildred Goodman's next picture, "Dancing on Clouds".

What fun it had been--observing my classmates as they went about their various activities. I thanked the fortune teller and hurried back to my office so that I could write up the article for the Sunday's Feature Section of the New York Times.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

To our great sorrow we have been informed that our fated day is near. The members of the student body have been noticing of late that the Seniors show signs of various disabilities. The latest reports showed these symptoms: headaches which developed from pondering over a dilapidated history book; eyestrain from reading too many of Shakespeare's plays; taped-up fingers caused by the typewriter blues; and several Senior girls have been seen counting grey hairs which have developed because of shorthand worries.

To avoid the feuds which may arise among survivors, I now submit this last will and testament on the eve of our fatal day.

THE WILL

We, the Senior Class of '46 being of sound mind, do hereby establish and publish this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To Mr. Walton, we will a blackboard compass so he won't have to fool with a piece of string. This may be an aid in his future Geometry Classes.

To Miss White, we will a new Bible to replace the wellworn one now used by the Senior Class for morning devotionals.

We will Mr. Haynes some more hair to replace that which his hat has rubbed off.

To Miss Cogle, we will a boyfriend to keep her mind off grammar and literature.

To Miss Nunnally, we bequeath 365 air mail stamps, so that she may continue mailing her Coast Guardsman an air mail letter each day.

We leave a smaller Seventh Grade class to Miss Simmons, so she will be able to move back to her pet room.

To Mrs. Rice and Mr. Beazley, we will an extension bell so that the Home Ec. girls and the Agriculture boys won't be late for classes.

We will to Mrs. Yancey an album of popular records to replace some of her ancient ones.

We will to Mrs. Barlow a set of stage scenery to assist her in her dramatic courses.

To Miss Nicholson, we will a First Grade which is immune to measles, whooping cough, mumps and colds.

ARTICLE II

To the Juniors, we will our Senior room and our sweet homeroom teacher, Miss White. We hope they will improve the room to the extent that they will put in a new window pane which is broken out and replace some of the broken down desks.

To the Sophomore Class, we leave vitality, energy and a calm way of accepting hardships.

To the Freshman Class, we will our right to cheer at future baseball games.

ARTICLE III

Mildred Goodman wills her dancing ability to Virginia Riddle.
Betty Hobbs wills her ability as catcher in softball to Lynn Taylor.
Doris Nicol leaves her shorthand ability to Arlene Pollock.
Hilda Oleyar wills her bashfulness to Carolyn Dickens.
Hazel Riddle leaves her ruby lips to Georgie Vejnar.
Emily Stech wills her sweet disposition to Ruth Wayner.
Joan Tarpy leaves her blonde hair to Ruby Emory.
Helen Tiller wills her natural curls to Dorothy Nugent.
Mary Vargo wills her executive ability to Catherine Hall.
Pauline Vargo wills her giggles to Tillie Rusnak.
Frances Waymack wills her typing ability to Geroge Waymack.
Mildred Waymack wills her rosy cheeks to Gladys Horne.
Lindy Cole wills his baseball ability to Franklin King.
Bobby Pollock wills his way with women to James Emory.
John Soltes leaves his quietness to Harvey Elder.
Frank Soucek wills his loquaciousness to Royce Ellis.
Paul Vargo wills his smartness to Manley Nugent.
Edwin Williams wills his dramatic ability to Ivan Mazak.
Lastly, I, your humble lawyer, will my petite size to Alma Lee Elder.

In testimony whereof we, the Senior Class of 1946, have, to this last will and testament, subscribed our names and affixed our seal this 25th day of March, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forth-six.

THE JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

After an active summer in 1943, twenty-five eager freshmen entered Room 10 to start a busy high school career. Miss Nunnally was new to the faculty, and we were new as high school students, so we felt as if we were in the same boat, which was a comforting feeling. We elected the following officers for the year: President, Evelyn Hanzlik; Vice President, Evelyn Padgett; Secretary, Emil Stech; Treasurer, George Waymack; Reporter, Robert Allin; S.C.A. Representative, Arlene Pollock. We spent a happy year working and playing together, and before we knew it, June had come!

In September of 1944, twenty-two pupils were greeted in the sophomore room by Miss Cogle. The class officers for the year were: President, Dorothy Nugent; Vice President, Ivan Mazak; Secretary, Evelyn Hanzlik; Treasurer, Robert Allin; Reporter, Carolyn Dickens; S.C.A. Representative, Robert Allin. We suffered the loss of Joyce Burijon and Jackie Skur, who moved to another school; and Harvey Elder, who stayed in the freshman class.

We enjoyed several parties during the year. Some of the startling results of a popularity contest which we held were as follows: prettiest girl, Evelyn Hanzlik; most handsome boy, Irvin Waymack; cutest girl, Carolyn Dickens; cutest boy, Emil Stech; most popular girl, Dorothy Nugent; most popular boy, Irvin Waymack.

We donated to the Red Cross and provided a Christmas box for a soldier in the hospital at Camp Lee. A few members of the class played on the high school ball teams. They were: Arlene Pollock, Evelyn Padgett, Dorothy Nugent, Evelyn Hanzlik, Alton Moody, Emil Stech, and Al Simmons.

September 6, 1945 and nineteen jolly juniors with Mr. Haynes as Sponsor started out our third year in high school. We elected the following class officers; President, Emil Stech; Vice President, Arlene Pollock; Secretary, Carolyn Dickens; Treasurer, Jack Harrison; Reporter, Evelyn Hanzlik; S.C.A. Representative, Arlene Pollock. We had lost three members in the class; Mildred Franchok, Lawrence Brockwell, and George Franchok.

On the morning of January 23, shouts of joy were heard from the juniors. Our class rings had come! We felt so grown-up as we proudly wore them.

Several members of our class made the ball teams this year. We are looking forward to a successful ball season for both teams. This is one of the most exciting times of the year. The days will fly by and before we know it, June will be here again. Exams, and then we'll be the Seniors!

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1944, there were twenty-three of us to enter the Freshman class at D.H.S., many of whom had never met before. However, we lost no time in becoming acquainted. In our freshman year we decided upon blue and gold as our class colors and the red rose as our flower.

We entered the Sophomore class with nineteen pupils, having lost Doris Overton, Agnes, Marie, and Ruth Wayner.

In January of 1946, ten of us joined the Glee Club which was organized by the S.C.A. under the direction of Miss Nunnally.

During our two years of high school we have willingly contributed to the Red Cross and other civic organizations. Among the activities we have enjoyed most are the two Christmas parties which we have had since we entered high school.

We have, and will, put all of our effort and power to become an outstanding class of D.H.S.

--- Ruth Skalsky

THE FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

On the memorable day of September 6, 1945, nineteen excited, slicked-up Freshman entered Room 10 of D.H.S. There was sweet, dark-haired, little Miss Nunnally waiting for what she thought was an orderly, well-recommended class. She was soon, however, to fall from her rose-colored cloud because this class was no better, and even worse, than many she'd had.

Our activities started with a candle-light installation service, installing the following officers: first-term President, Alice Wyborney; second-term President, William Togger; Secretary, Billy Hatch; Treasurer, Blanche Horne, and S.C.A. Representative, Daniel Moncol. We chose blue and gold for our class colors. The blue represents loyalty, and the gold represents cooperation. Our class flower is the red rose, and our motto is "Up and Coming". Our first Christmas party was a real success. There was a pretty tree, piled high with gifts, and we sang carols 'til we were hoarse. We had a grand old time with sticks of chewing gum, chocolate bars, oranges, cookies, and nuts.

Now during this fast flying second term, we're trying to really put our shoulders to the wheel and speed toward that wonderful day in June.

Secretary: "Mr. President, the bank has returned that check you wrote."
President: "Oh, isn't that splendid! What can the class buy with it this time?"

Mr. Haynes: "How do bees dispose of their honey?"
Billy: "They cell it, I believe."

Lindy: "What did I make on that test?"
Mr. Haynes: "Mistakes."

Mr. Walton: "Frank, do you know anything about this course?"
Frank: "A little, sir. What would you like to know?"

Bobby: "Dad, can you sign your name with your eyes shut?"
Dad: "I think so. Why?"
Bobby: "Then close your eyes and sign my report card."

Mr. Haynes: "Give me a well known date in Roman history, Edwin."
Edwin: "Anthony's with Cleopatra."

Miss Cogle: "Doris, in which battle was the King of Serbia killed?"
Doris: "I'm not sure, but wasn't it his last one?

Hilda: "My history teacher is awfully severe about discipline."
Fay: "Does he give the students a lot of bawling out?"
Hilda: "No, but he sure has a way of looking over his glasses."

Mr. Haynes: "Robert, if the President of the United States should die, who would get the job?"
Robert: "A Democratic undertaker."

Mr. Haynes: (at a baseball game) "Oh, look, we have a man on every base now."
Miss Nunnally: "That's nothing, so has the other side."

Miss Cogle: "When was the revival of learning?"
Betty: "Just before exams."

Mr. Haynes: "Why can't the nations get along like one big family?"
John: "That's just the trouble, they do."

Paul: "Mr. Beazley, what are those holes for?"
Mr. Beazley: "They are knot holes."
Paul: "Well, if they are not holes, what are they?"

Mr. Haynes: "Joan, prove that the world is round."
Joan: "I never said it was."

Miss Simmons: "What is an island?"
John: "A place where the bottom of the sea sticks up through the water."

Robert: "Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?"
Mildred: "No, I don't think anyone ever did."
Robert: "Then I'd like to know how and when you got the idea?"
